This week is a week to remember. The long Labor Day weekend reminds us of the importance of rest. In Genesis 2:1, God establishes rest as part of the weekly routine. So, even if you used the day off for one last getaway before Fall, make sure that there is time in your schedule for rest and worship. The end of the week brings another reminder. Saturday marks the 20th anniversary of September 11th, and causes us to remember the families who have suffered as a result of the acts on that day, to appreciate those who have sacrificed for our freedom and safety, and to know that “For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms” (Ephesians 6:12). And yet Jesus, “the author and finisher of our faith” encourages us with this thought, which He spoke to his disciples, “I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world” (John 16:33).
