As one school year comes to a close, the plans for the next one have already begun. We are praying and expecting for God to do great things at HCA! In fact, the theme verse for next year comes from

1 Corinthians 2:9,

“What no eye has seen, what no ear has heard, and what no human mind has conceived”— the things God has prepared for those who love him—”

Will you join me in praying for our families and our faculty – that God would equip the students and staff of HCA to be light in a dark world, that God would provide the resources for what He has planned for HCA, and that God would continue to open doors of ministry and missions for the families of HCA?

The activities of this week include a day of fun in the sun on Wednesday as the Elementary students enjoy the events of field day. PTF will provide concessions during field day and a price list is posted on the front doors of the school. Heather’s Ice Cream will be here as well for part of the day, and that information is also posted on the front door of the school.

Also, on Wednesday, Middle School and High School students will have an opportunity to participate in the Color Run that was rained out earlier this year. Participation is optional, and students should receive parent permission beforehand. The Color Run will begin at 2:10 in the back of the building. The students who want to run will follow a portion of the cross-country course, students who want to throw color will line the course, along with the students who just want to cheer for the runners.

Hello parents! I hope your spring is going well! Summer is nearly upon us and I want to invite you to call if you have a need for summer tutoring for your child. My number is (270) 305-6111 if you'd like to sign up. Spots are going fast. The cost is $25 per hour.

I'd be glad to work on content for any of the following:

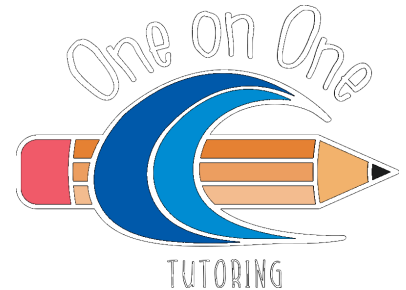

Reading, Writing and Language through high school and beyond. Math through 7th grade.

I love to guide summer reading novels and help students learn to write better.

References can be provided.
